Around 60 per cent of Australia’s agricultural production is exported.

Our three largest export destinations for agricultural products are Southeast Asia, China and Japan, which together account for around 48 per cent of Australian agricultural exports.

Australia is among the world’s largest exporters of wheat, beef, wool and dairy products.

We are a net exporter of food with net exports of around $19 billion in 2011–12.

Our three largest food exports are grains and oilseeds ($11.0 billion), meat ($7.2 billion) and dairy ($2.3 billion).

Our three largest food imports are beverages ($2.2 billion), processed fruit and vegetables ($1.7 billion) and processed seafood ($1.3 billion).

Food processing is the largest sector in the manufacturing industry.

The total gross value of fisheries production for aquaculture and wild-catch (Commonwealth and state) was $2.2 billion in 2010–11.

Aquaculture accounts for almost 42 per cent of the total gross value of fisheries production.

Forestry plantations supply around three-quarters of all logs harvested in Australia.

The value of forest product exports in 2011–12 was $2.2 billion, with woodchip exports accounting for around 33 per cent.