NEW QUARANTINE PRE-ARRIVAL REPORT (QPAR)

ADVICE TO AGENTS – SEAPORTS - 03/07

Shipping Agents / Operators

The purpose of this advice is to inform you that a revised Quarantine Pre-Arrival Report (QPAR) will take effect on 12 September 2007. The Seaports Program (the Program) is responsible for the quarantine clearance of all vessels that enter Australian ports from overseas. The quarantine clearance starts with a risk assessment process upon receipt of the QPAR. By law, every international vessel must submit a QPAR to the Australian Quarantine and Inspection Service (AQIS) prior to arrival.

The Program completed a review of all the questions asked on the current QPAR. The purpose of the review was to ascertain the appropriateness of the questions. Based on extensive consultation with the AQIS regional offices, Shipping Industry representatives and departmental lawyers the revised QPAR has been significantly simplified and aligns more closely with current operational policy.

The key amendments to the QPAR are in the following areas:

- A change in the reporting timeframe to 96-12 hours prior to arrival. At the request of the Shipping Industry, AQIS has extended the reporting timeframe (that the QPAR must be submitted by the Master of a vessel arriving into Australia from international waters) from 48 to 12 hours prior to arrival to 96 to 12 hours. This will better align AQIS pre-reporting requirements with other Australian Government Agencies' pre-reporting requirements.
- The addition of a question on vessel length.
- The addition of a question on waste.
- The addition of a question on Ship Sanitation Certificates (in recognition of the International Health Regulations 2005). The Department of Health and Ageing will advise of the implementation of a ship sanitation scheme in due course.
- Broadening the requirement to report sightings of any insects, not just bees.
- Simplification of the ballast water questions.

Australian Government

Australian Quarantine and Inspection Service

AQIS must be notified immediately if the status of the vessel, after the submission of the QPAR, changes at any time. Historically, agents have effectively notified AQIS in a timely manner of changes that have occurred after submitting the QPAR. Effective and efficient utilisation of AQIS resources requires reliable vessel arrival and departure information. AQIS appreciates the cooperation of shipping agents regarding the timely notification of changes to information supplied with the QPAR, with particular attention to amended berthing and /or departure times.

Please find attached a copy of the revised QPAR – Implementation date 12 September 2007 and a 'Guide to Completing the Quarantine Pre-Arrival Report (Pratique) Form for Vessel Clearance'.

The revised QPAR and associated documents will be on the AQIS website at www.aqis.gov.au/shipping as of the 12 September 2007. AQIS would appreciate any ongoing feedback in order to make it easier for Industry to fill out the QPAR. If you have any comments please feel free to email AQIS at:

Please note that this version of the QPAR will not be accepted by AQIS until 12 September 2007.

Section 1b: Quarantine Pre-Arrival Information

This section is designed to assist AQIS in understanding the present quarantine condition of your vessel. Quarantine condition includes human, animal and plant health, waste and ballast water. Details relating to these aspects are used to determine the quarantine risk status of your vessel.

Questions 17 & 18 Reporting Human Health

17. Have there been any deaths amongst persons on board the vessel during the current voyage? If YES, please state number of deaths ( ) and cause, or suspected cause.
18. Has any person on board the vessel during the voyage been found to be suffering from an illness or symptoms of an illness? If YES, please state the number of people who suffer from the symptom/s or illness, the cause or suspected cause and any treatment that the person has had.

If a YES has been indicated for question 18, contact the Shipping Agent and advise them that the "Passenger with Illness Checklist", refer to Attachment 2, needs to be completed prior to the processing of the QPAR. This checklist refers to all persons on board the vessel.

If there is a change in the health status after an Approval to Berth has been granted and prior to berthing you must notify AQIS immediately.

Question 19 Animals on Board

(Reg 10, Item 17 & 18)

19. Are there any animals (including birds and/or fish) on board the vessel? If yes, state how many, and give a description of the type of animal/s and their health and condition. Did any animal die during this voyage? If YES, how many animals died? How were the dead animals disposed of?

Question 19 requires details of any animals on board, including birds, fish, cats, dogs and monkeys. Details about the type, number and location of animal/s should be provided. Details of any deaths during the voyage and how they were disposed of should be provided. All animals will be subject to inspection at the vessel's first Australian port of call. Quarantine conditions will apply and you must comply with all directions issued by the quarantine officer; confine all animals indoors as directed on the Approval to Berth or by the quarantine officer; dispose of all animal waste under quarantine control or in a manner approved by AQIS; provide immediate notification to AQIS if any animal on board becomes ill, dies or escapes.

Animals on board vessels that have recently visited overseas countries, may have come in contact with species carrying damaging pests and diseases such as Foot and Mouth Disease (FMD), African Swine Fever, screw-worm fly, rabies, Newcastle disease and Avian Influenza (AI).

In accordance with Section 16(2) of the Quarantine Regulations 2000 you are required to notify AQIS no less than 48 hours prior to arrival at your first Australian port if you intent to import a live animal. For further information refer to the AQIS website:
