BIOSECURITY AUSTRALIA POLICY MEMORANDUM 2005/19*

AMENDMENT TO IMPORT CONDITIONS FOR HATCHING EGGS OF DOMESTIC TURKEYS

This Biosecurity Australia Policy Memorandum advises stakeholders of amendments to the conditions for importation of hatching eggs of domestic turkeys from approved countries. These conditions take effect immediately.

Background

In light of the emerging global spread of highly pathogenic avian influenza, Biosecurity Australia has issued amended conditions for the importation of hatching eggs of domestic turkeys.

Importation of hatching eggs of domestic turkeys is currently only permitted from the United Kingdom, France, Ireland, Germany, The Netherlands, the United States of America, Canada and New Zealand.

Amendments to conditions

The amended conditions for importation of hatching eggs of domestic turkeys are attached (Attachment A). The main changes to the conditions are:

- Certification of country freedom from highly pathogenic notifiable avian influenza in poultry; and
- Poultry source flocks must be tested for antibodies to Type A avian influenza virus with negative results. This requirement applies even when the exporting country certifies freedom from highly pathogenic notifiable avian influenza.

Biosecurity Australia previously issued amended conditions for the importation of hatching eggs of domestic hens and will shortly issue amended conditions for the importation of hatching eggs of ducks.
